Vocational Rehabilitation, Re-Employment and Return to Work

Event Details

When: November 18, 2021 @ 2:00PM EST On-Demand Where: Online Event Online Event

Millions of Americans currently live with a disability that requires workplace modifications. This course provides an overview of assessments designed to screen and assess employees' vocational status based on the level of disability. The instructor will review statistics and data associated with return-to-work programs, lost-time injuries, and lost return-to-work days, and provide best practices to assist the adjuster and case manager in modification decision-making.
