Dave Torrence

Executive Vice President, Corporate Strategy & General Manager

Dave Torrence is executive vice president and head of corporate strategy for Enlyte and also serves as the general manager for the Pharmacy Solutions division, providing pharmacy benefit management solutions for both workers' compensation and automobile injury claims. Dave joined the company in 2005, bringing a wealth of experience in the casualty claims and auto physical damage markets. As the head of Enlyte's Strategy & Corporate Development team, Dave works across the organization to define and execute growth strategies both organically and through acquisition. Additionally, Dave leads our pharmacy benefit and revenue cycle management solutions, serving both Property & Casualty insurers and retail pharmacies in the processing of their workers' compensation and automobile injury prescription claims.
