Jim Harris

Vice President, Analytics & Reporting

Jim Harris joined Genex in 2013 and is the corporate owner of information management and customer reporting and analysis. Mr. Harris is responsible for expanding the portfolio of reporting, analytic, and predictive modeling tools for our customers and field operations. He leads a team of analysts and report writers to ensure high quality delivery of client reports, stewardships, and ad hoc requests, handling all product performance-related operational analysis and reporting.

Mr. Harris is an accomplished senior-level executive with 25 years of experience in the workers' compensation and managed care industries. His previous roles, including executive vice president of Network Synergy Group, provide a unique blend of claims, medical management, analytics, and leadership skills. As a strategic and operational leader, he has a keen ability to streamline processes and outcomes through the use of informatics analysis and technology and brings a unique perspective to information management, product development, and corporate strategy.

Mr. Harris holds a bachelor's degree in communications from Florida Southern College.
