

Auto Casualty

Michigan No-Fault Fee Schedule: What You Need to Know Before July 2

Event Details

Start: June 7, 2021 @ 8:00PM EDT End: @ Location: Online Event

On July 2, 2021, the new Michigan fee schedule will go into effect for services rendered on or after that date. The auto insurance industry has been preparing for this change since Senate Bill 1 was signed into law in 2019, but as we approach the effective date, there are still a few key pieces of the fee schedule that are unclear. In this webinar on June 23 at 9:30 AM PT, Mitchell regulatory, product and industry experts will provide an update on the latest information, including what is still outstanding, and share key strategies for how our products and insurers may want to address the ambiguity and prepare for the effective date. They'll also provide an update on Mitchell's product strategy related to the new fee schedule.

What You'll Learn

1. The latest regulatory updates about the new auto fee schedule that you need to know prior to the July 2 effective date.
2. Strategies and options that carriers may implement to address the fee schedule, including suggestions to handle the pieces that are still ambiguous.
3. Mitchell's product strategy to support the fee schedule and keep our platforms up-to-date with any regulatory changes moving forward.

Watch Now

More Information about the Michigan No-Fault Fee Schedule

Michigan Fee Schedule Administrative Rules Draft: What You Need to Know [On-Demand Webinar]
Michigan Auto No-Fault Reform: What You Need to Know About the Fee Schedule
Michigan Auto No-Fault Reform: History and Overview

Other Upcoming Mitchell Webinars

How Claims Organizations Are Positioning Themselves for Post-Pandemic Success

©2022 Enlyte Group, LLC.

mitchell | genex | coventry