Auto Casualty

Michigan No-Fault Fee Schedule: The Latest Updates [On-Demand Webinar]

Event Details

Start: June 23, 2021 @ 8:00PM EDT End: June 23, 2021 @ EDT Location: Online Event

On July 2, 2021, the new Michigan fee schedule will go into effect for services rendered on or after that date. The auto insurance industry has been preparing for this change since Senate Bill 1 was signed into law in 2019, but as we approach the effective date, there are still a few key pieces of the fee schedule that are unclear. Watch this webinar on-demand to hear about the latest updates from Mitchell regulatory, product and industry experts. You'll hear about what information is still outstanding and find out key strategies for how our products and insurers may want to address the ambiguity and prepare for the effective date. Please note that this webinar was recorded on June 23, 2021 and only reflects regulatory updates up until this date.

Key Takeaways

1. The details of the new draft administrative rules and other regulatory updates that you need to know prior to the July 2 effective date.
2. Mitchell's product strategy to support the fee schedule and keep our platforms up-to-date with any regulatory changes moving forward.
3. Strategies and options that carriers may implement to address the fee schedule, including suggestions to handle the pieces that are still ambiguous.

Learn More

More Information about the Michigan Fee Schedule

Michigan Auto No-Fault Reform: What You Need to Know About the Fee Schedule
Michigan Auto No-Fault Reform: History and Overview
Michigan Fee Schedule Administrative Rules Draft: What You Need to Know [On-Demand Webinar]

©2022 Enlyte Group, LLC.

mitchell | genex | coventry