Workers' Comp

Phoenix Rising: Changing Course After Tragedy

1 MIN READ

As a flight paramedic in Phoenix, AZ, Derek Boehm’s job was to rescue those whose lives were on the line in emergency situations. That role reversed one afternoon when he and his crewmates crashed into a mountain leaving him stranded on a snowy cliff with serious injuries and no way to call for help.

Find out how he survived the ordeal and meet the case manager who guided him to recovery.

Explore how our Catastrophic Injury Management deliver specialized expertise, compassionate case management, and coordinated support—when it matters most. Learn more about our Catastrophic Injury Management solutions.

©2022 Enlyte Group, LLC.

mitchell | genex | coventry