What if everything you've worked for was lost in a single moment? Would you know how to respond and what resources could help you rebuild your life?

These were questions police officer Jeremy Romero never thought he'd have to answer. Next week, Genex will present Ofc. Romero's story in a can't-miss video. You'll learn how he faced these challenges with the help of influential advocates who opened doors and walked with him every step of the way.
