Chris Williamson

Senior Director, Product Management

Chris Williamson is senior director of product management at Enlyte with a focus on third-party solutions. Williamson is working on bringing together Enlyte's capabilities around FNOL, liability, medical bill review, professional services, document management, injury evaluation and negotiation in ways that will allow carriers to transform their businesses.

Prior to his current position, Williamson worked with carriers and the Enlyte development team on developing the DecisionPoint application.

Williamson holds a BA in Business Administration from Calvin University, Grand Rapids, MI.

©2022 Enlyte Group, LLC.