Nurse Review Helped Carrier Settle for 70% Less Than Original Demand Amount

MIN READ

The Challenge: Inflated Demand Buried in 475 Pages

A midsized carrier faced a 457-page demand package following an auto accident in Pennsylvania. The plaintiff sought $250,000 in medical damages, further complicated by preexisting conditions and ongoing treatment. Sorting through the disorganized demand to separate legitimate accident-related costs from unrelated care made it challenging to determine true exposure.

Find out how medical insight and an easy-to-digest summary helped reduce a $250K demand to a $75K settlement in the full case study.

Claim Settled for 70% less than the Original Demand Amount
