As we wrap up our Inside Workers' Comp series for the year, we thought we'd leave you with a positive podcast — a bonus extra from our inspirational case study video: "Phoenix Rising: Changing Course After Tragedy." In this exclusive interview, former flight paramedic Derek Boehm goes into extensive detail about his daring rescue on a mountain cliff after a helicopter crash, the psychological challenges he faced in coping with the loss of his flight partners and the Genex case manager who guided him on his road to recovery.
